Tips for Writing Questions

Concentrate on these story elements when writing questions:

- Plot
- Setting
- Character traits
- Genre of the book
- Setting description (not specific names of places)
- How the book begins and how it ends
- Conflicts within the story – what are they, who are they between?
- Do not use specific references to the title or author in the question.

1. Start each question with “In what book...”
2. Write the page number or chapter number where the answer can be found in the book.
3. Avoid using proper names for characters and settings.
4. You can use quotes in questions if it was an important quote in the development of the story or characters.
5. Do not use specific references to the title or author in the question.
